TREATY SIGNED

LAST ACT IN THE CONQUEST OF THE ALLIES

MILITARISM GIVES WAY TO ALLIES

(By Associated Press)
Clemenceau, at the opening of the session said: "The allied associates powers on one side and the German commission on the other, have come to an agreement on the conditions of peace. The treaty has been completed and drafted and the president of the conference has stated to write me that the text that is about to be signed is identical with two hundred copies delivered to the German delegation whose signatures will be given now. They amount to a solemn undertaking, faithfully and loyally to execute the conditions embodied in this treaty. I now invite the delegates of the German commission to sign the treaty."

MAKING IT EASY FOR THE ENEMY

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, June 28.—The newspapers say the treaty contained certain stipulations which it was hoped would hasten ratification by the German national assembly. The Journal says the allies stipulated that liberation of German prisoners be dependent upon ratification by Germany.

WASHINGTON TAKES CALM VIEW OF THE SITUATION

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 28.—Official Washington took the signing calmly. Senator Hitchcock read President Wilson's address to the people, which passed without comment. The United States marine band serenading congress was the only signs of a celebration.

TREATY MUST BE RATIFIED NEXT

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 28.—Although the technical termination of the world's greatest war will not come to each nation until the ratifying of that nation is approved by treaty, to all intents and purposes the conflict ended with the signing at Versailles today. The American interest now shifts to the senate where a long and bitter contest over the ratification is expected.

WATER CO. WILL CROWD WORK

The Chamber of Mines sent another dispatch last evening to the Public Service Commission urging that body to take steps to compel the Water Company of Tonopah to deliver an adequate supply to Tonopah and the Divide.

Manager McGee this morning wired Foreman Brown to rush the work of installing the new booster pump as fast as possible and the latter expects to have the equipment operating within two weeks. The site of the pump house is within 800 feet of the reservoir and within 75 feet of the power line so that construction may be made early. The site is in the canyon running from the laundry to Rye Patch. The trouble last night causing a water famine lasting four hours was due to a defective check valve.

REMAINS TAKEN TO ASPEN TO FAMILY BURIAL GROUND

The obsequies over the remains of the late Alex Pearson, formerly a watchman on the Jim Butler mine, were held last evening at the old home of the deceased which was filled with many beautiful floral tokens from friends of the family. During the exercises W. F. Logan rendered two violin solos "The Rosary" and "Nearer My God To Thee." After remarks setting forth the model life and career of the deceased as husband and father, the casket was closed and placed in a shipping case for transfer to Aspen, Colo., for interment in the family burial plot. The body was accompanied to its destination by Mrs. Pearson, her son, Frank, and brother, John Keeler, of Bingham, Utah.

BURIED IN TONOPAH

The funeral exercises over the body of Jerry Montague were conducted last evening at the undertaking parlors where Mrs. Alice M. Gillman read the ritual of the Christian Science church. Interment was in the local cemetery and the pallbearers were selected from his old associates.

FIGHT ARENA AT TOLEDO, O., NEARS FINISH

(By Associated Press)
TOLEDO, Ohio, June 28.—Victory for Willard with a knockout within five rounds in the fight with Dempsey is predicted by Walter Monahan, the champion's chief sparring partner. Every train is bringing sporting celebrities to Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., June 28.—Thrilling its raw yellow skeleton skyward, the huge bowl-shaped arena, costing $150,000 and originally planned to seat 50,000 persons, is rapidly nearing completion for the heavyweight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey here July 4th. The arena is located in Bay View park, a municipally owned plot of ground sixty acres in extent and directly north four miles from the heart of the city. Before being turned over to Tex Rickard, promoter of the championship contest, the park had been used as a recreation center and the arena rests on the site of two baseball diamonds. ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT WILSON

"My fellow countrymen: The treaty of peace is signed. If it is ratified and acted upon in full and sincere execution of its terms, it will furnish a charter for a new order of affairs in the world. It is a severe treaty in the duties, and penalties imposed upon Germany, but severe only because of the great wrongs by Germany are to be righted. It imposes nothing Germany cannot do. She can regain a rightful standing in the world by prompt and honorable fulfillment of the terms. It liberates a great peoples and ends the old intolerable order under which small groups of men could use the peoples of great empires to serve their ambition for power and domination. It associates the free governments of the world in a league in which they are pledged to use their power to maintain peace by maintaining right and justice."

WOODROW WILSON.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 28.—The signing of the peace treaty was begun at 10:30 o'clock, Washington time. The official report to the state department said President Wilson signed at 3:14 o'clock, Paris time. Dr. Herbert Mueller and Dr. Johannes Bell signed for Germany at 3:15. Secretary Lansing, Colonel House, Chief Justice White and General Tasker H. Bliss followed the president in signing.

(By Associated Press)
VERSAILLES, June 28.—The official report transmitted from the Hall of Mirrors to the state department stated that President Wilson and the American delegation completed signing the treaty at 3:14, Paris time. The other delegations, headed by the British, signed after the Americans.

VERSAILLES, June 28.—The peace treaty all the terms. A few minutes before 3:15 enlisted men from the American, British and French closed at 3:49. The Germans signed at 3:15, and the Americans, led by President Wilson, signed at 3:14. The British followed at 3:14. The signing of the treaty was a formal ceremony. The signing of the treaty was a formal ceremony. The signing of the treaty was a formal ceremony.

General John Christian Smuts, one of the Union of South Africa delegates, signed under protest. He objected to the territorial settlements. He made a lengthy statement saying the indemnities stipulated could not be accepted without grave injustice to the industrial revival of Europe. He declared it would be to the interest of the allied powers to render the stipulations more tolerable and moderate.

Beside the table on which rested the treaty were two tables for the Rhine convention and protocol containing changes in and interpretations of the treaty. The Germans, Americans, Belgians and French signed the treaty and the Rhine arrangement protocol. Madly cheering, the crowd swept aside the troops as Clemenceau, Wilson and Lloyd George emerged from the palace. The three were swept along by surging thousands. Many soldiers joined the demonstration. Guns boomed and low flying airplanes seemed to fill the air. The Germans left the hall first.

President Wilson entered the hall of Mirrors at 2:50. All the allied delegates were seated then except the Chinese. The Germans entered at 3 o'clock. Clemenceau put the direct question to the Germans whether they were willing to sign and execute

WILSON ON HIS WAY HOME FROM BREST

WIRES ALL'S WELL

WASHINGTON, June 28.—President Wilson called Secretary Tammity that all were well and would leave Paris tonight for Brest, whence they sail for home. The president consented to an unofficial reception on arrival in New York.
